IN THE CYCLING WORLD.

Hundreds of local cyclists are making arrangements to attend the National Meet at Philadelphia next week. Many will leave here on Monday, and they will continue to go to the Quaker City right up to Saturday morning. Most of the delegations from the Brooklyn clubs and unattached riders will start on Tuesday night on a special train. The century runs to be conducted by the Associated Cycling Clubs of this city promise to be interesting. Edward Gerbereux, the chairman of the committee in charge of the runs, returned from a visit to Philadelphia and Trenton vesterday. The A. C. C. will make the Continental Hotel their headquarters while they are in Philadelphia. The Associated Cycling Clubs of Philadelphia have made all arrangements for checking and pacing the New-York delegation on from Bristol. Captain W. B. Inks. of the Time Wheelmen, will take the delegation from this city over the best roads to the end of their destination. start on Tuesday night on a special train. The Captain Evans, of the Mercer County Wheelmen, at Trenton, has arranged for the checking and reception of the riders at Trenton. William Kilfoll, of Princeton, will have charge of the arrangements at that place, and he will have half a dozen asat that place, and he will have half a dozen assistants. At New-Brunswick, Captain Rice, of the Brunswick Bicycle Club, will look after the century riders. The Crescent Bicycle Club, will look after the centurians at Plainfield, while in Elizabeth, A. C. Maunt and his assistants will attend to the checking and repairs. The entry blanks can be secured at No. 463 Boulevard and at most of the bicycle stores in this city. The entries are coming in fast, and the committee is confident that about two hundred and fifty riders will start on each of the four days. More than forty entries were received yesterday.

The national circuit meet of the Riverside Wheelmen, at Manhattan Beach Saturday, has secured a large entry list of the best racing men. Among the professionals to ride are Earl Kiser, F. J. Titus, W. Coburn, John L. Decker, Oscar Hedstrom, Howard Mosher, Jay Eaten, Ray Macdonald, J. W. Kinsey, jr. George W. Inch, C. R. Newald. J. W. Kinsey, jr. George W. Inch, C. R. Newton, F. F. Goodman, C. M. Murphy, Frank J. Jenny, Watson Coleman, C. L. Henshaw, W. K. Sibley, H. R. Steenson, Owen S. Kimble, F. A. Nagle, F. C. Hoyt and John F. Williams. Some of the crack amateurs who will compete are R. A. Miller, George Retth, C. M. Ertz, C. S. Babcock, H. C. Kuster, E. C. Hausman, G. H. Collett, H. Y. Biedell, E. G. Krum, Millon Brown, F. W. Richt, Ray Murray, and eighty others.

Friday evening, August 13, has been mutually agreed upon as "Wheelmen's Annual Summer Night" at the Casino, on the part of the Casino management and several prominent representative officials of the principal cycle organizations. Special innovations of interest to cyclists will be the rule.

The Associated Cycle Clubs of the City of New-York have scheduled four century runs, on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, from New-York to Philadelphia, and have offered five silver cups for the five largest have offered five silver cups for the five largest numbers of survivors of any New-York City clubs. The Morris Wheelmen would like to win one, and the members are appealed to for their assistance by entering on either of the above dates, as any day will count to the club's credit. Most of the members will enter for the Saturday's run. Entry blanks can be had at clubhouse, or will be mailed if requested. The entry fee is $1.

A special meeting of the South Brooklyn Wheelmen was held at the clubhouse, No. 476 Ninth-st., Brooklyn, last night. The principal business under discussion was the second annual race meet of the club, which will take place at the Manhattan Beach track on August 14. The members are particularly interested in the coming meet, and they prepose to make it one of the most interesting held at the beach track this year. The prizes are the limit allowed by the L. A. W., and most of the best amateur and professional riders will take part.

There was a private trial of a new machine at the Manhattan Beach track yesterday. The ma-chine is called "the electric place indicator and time recorder." It is said that with the machine time is called "the electric place indicator and time recorder." It is said that with the machine dead heats will be impossible, or almost so, as the machine will record up to one-hundredth of a sec-ond. Each rider is recorded and timed as he passes over the tape.

Brooklyn cyclists are justly indignant at the Department of City Works over the continued bad ondition of Neptune-ave. The thoroughfare has been torn up for months, and in the face of prommade by Commissioner Willis that he would see to it that the railroad companies repaired the damage that the railroad companies repaired the damage that they had done to the road. Two members of the Kings County Wheelmen were arrested the other day for riding on the sidewalk in this thoroughlare, and they were fined $1 each. Heretofore the cyclists have been allowed to use the sidewalk, as the street has been all but ira-

GOLF PLAYED IN THE RAIN.

FOXHALL P. KEENE ESTABLISHES A NEW RECORD FOR THE FIRST NINE HOLES AT SHINNECOCK.

A driving northeast storm swept over the Shinnecock Hills yesterday, and the players who had confidently predicted a clear day for the continuation of the golf tournament comforted themselves with the assertion that one cannot forecast Shinnecock weather. And they were right. Such a storm as that of yesterday would dishearten the most skilful weather clerk.

No sooner would the clouds lighten than another downpour would drive the spectators to shelter. The golf links, already soaked by the previous day's rain, was fairly flooded with water. From a midsummer tournament the meeting has apparently changed into the veriest end-of-the-season affair. The wind whistled over the Shinnecock sand dunes with almost the fury of a December storm. No matter what protection the players used against the wet, they were soaked to the skin before the third tee was reached.

The golf was such as was only natural under such conditions. Though a few of the matches succeeded in raising the general average of play, there was little which could be called brilliant golf. In the morning the tie for the last two places in the qualifying round which resulted from the previous dualitying found which the six contestants who had finished at 201 played off a single hole, and W. T. Gray, of St. Ardrews, and W. Cheney, of South Manchester, Conn., succeeded in winning the places.

This left things clear for the match play rounds for the President's Cup, in which the fourteen who qualified on the opening day, together with Cheney and Gray, were the eligibles. One of the first pairs to set out in the cup contest were Stewart, the English player, and Tyng, the Morris County champion. Stewart was not as consistent as on the opening day and lost points repeatedly by his erratic Tyng was 3 up at the end of the first nine holes, a lead which he increased to 4 up before the match was decided. Tyng followed up this successful beginning by defeating Rogers in the afternoon by 7 up and 5 to play.

But the one who eclipsed every one by his brilliancy and skill was Foxhall P. Keene, who has apparently set out to make a reputation in golf, as devoted his attention. Though not a newcomer in golf, this is the first open tournament in which he has ever taken part, and his play thus far stamps him as one of the most prominent con-testants for the championship. In the morning he defeated John Reid, jr., the crack Yale golfer, by 7 up and 8 to play. In the match he established is two better than the best professional score of the links, and almost phenomenal under the dis-advantageous conditions which prevailed. In the afternoon he met Terry, of Ardsley, in the second afternoon he met Terry, of Ardsley, in the second round, and 19 holes were necessary to decide the contest. At no time in the match did more than two holes separate them, and throughout he showed a force and confidence in his game that won for him warm applause. He finally won by 1 up.

Bowers defeated Robertson in the opening round, and was again successful over Ctark, of Shinne-cock, when the two met in the second round. James Park, of the Richmond County Club, was another player to secure a place in the second round, lie was drawn against Dixon, of the Rockaway Hunt Club, and Daniel Chauncey, of Dyker Meadow, in succession, both of whom he defeated handliy. This leaves only four players to battle for the cup. They are Tyng, Park, Rowers and Keene.

To-day Tyng will play Park, while Bowers will be pitted against Keene. The qualifying round of 26 holes to decide the eight players who are cligible for the consolation matches were also decided in the day.

Those who qualified were W. J. Trayle, C. Fol.

WAITING TO LAUNCH THE YACHT.

THE HIGH SEAS AT CITY ISLAND POSTPONE THE FIRST PLUNGE OF THE KESTREL-A DE-SCRIPTION OF THE ROAT.

Down at Wood's yard, City Island, they are still waiting for the sea to go down, so that the new yacht Kestrel, which has just been built for John B. Mills, can be launched. Yesterday the sea was B. Mills, can be launched. Yesterday the sea was breaking heavily on the beach, and some time may elapse before the new fifty-one-footer takes her first plunge. Her owner, Mr. Mills, is a member of the New-York Yacht Club, and has been hastening the Kestrel toward completion in order that ing the Kestrel toward completion in order that he may join the cruising club squadrons which will move east on August 2 from the rendezvous at Gien Cove. This new racer, which is expected to make things hum in the fifty-one-foot class, has been constructed at City Island on the design of "Will" Fife, of Fairlie, Scotland; and, as she at present rests in the cradle, she inevitably reminds one of "Will" Pife's last production in one of "Will" Fife's last production in America, which was the yacht Canada, a craft built to beat the Vencedor on the upper lakes last year. The new Kestrel will immediately contest with this same Vencedor, which has since been purchased in Chicago by ex-Commodore H. M. Gillig, and brought to New-York. She now races in the fifty one-foot class against the new filer belonging to F. M. Hoyt, called the Syce. When the Kearel, the Syce and the Vencedor get together, the best racing of 1897 will be witnessed.

The Kestrel seems to be more full in her forward lines than the Syce, but her run trims out, perhaps, slimmer and with all the usual refinement of the Fife run. She is flush-about.

YACHTS STORMBOUND AT STAMFORD.

At Stamford yesterday the amateur sailors were hopelessly locked up in port. There was a sea running up the Sound such as is seldom seen in summer weather. In some portions of Shippan Point the rollers were passing completely over the neck of land. Outside big vessels were running up under a reefed forestil, and the sight of them contained a silent but potent argument in favor of the yachts staying in port. The chairman of the Regatta Committee, E. E. Bruggerhoff, and his associates, A. H. Schofield and A. H. Smith, had no doubt as to their duty in vetoing the sailing of the

MUD CONTESTS AT AQUEDUCT.

THE DAILY TURF TREADMILL IN THE RAIN. St. Swithin is evidently the patron saint of the owners of mud horses, and should have a shrine erected in his honor at the Aqueduct track. The racing yesterday recalled the days of Guttenburg and Gloucester to the veteran racegoers who made up the majority of the spectators. More than fifty layers-of-adds solicited the patronage of the bettors. Plungers are out of place at Aqueduct, as the limited capital of the layers-of-odds prevents them from accepting large wagers. R Tucker, who tried his luck as a layer-of-olds on Tuesday, has changed his opinion about the Clondyke possibilities of the betting ring, and in the future he will attend to his duties as a trainer and endeavor to select the win-ners on the outside.

Manassas won a race with Clawson in the saddle by several lengths. Kaiser Ludwig defeated Decide easily, and was sold by his owner, David Gideon, to W. C. Daly. THE BIG PACERS' RECORDS UNTOUCHED. Medford, Mass., July 28.-Neither Robert J. (2:015) nor John R. Gentry (2:005) was able to lower his racing record or that of the track (2:046), at Combination Park, this afternoon, and none of the 2.500 or more spectators who braved none of the 2,500 or more spectators who braved the cold, raw, northeast wind, had the slightest idea they would be able to do so. The best that Gentry could do was 2,07 flat, while Robert J. was a trifle slower, making the mile in 2,0845. The pacers made an excellent showing, considering the fact that they had the wind in their teeth at the start, down the stretch and at the finish. Gentry finished strong and made the better showing. His quarters were made in 0,32, 1,034, 1,3514, 2,57. Robert J.'s quarters were 0,32, 1,034, 1,35, 2,0852.

ENGLISHMEN PLAY AT LONGWOOD.

NESBIT BEATS DR. EAVES IN A HOTLY FOUGHT TENNIS MATCH-LARNED HAS A SCARE. Boston, July 28.-The third round of the Longwood tennis tournament was played to-day, and consisted of three matches, all between Americans, and one between two of the Englishmen. The incentred in the latter match, which was played this afternoon, and a crowd saw H. A. Nes-bit, who is rated in England as ninth in the list of tennis cracks, defeat Dr. W. V. Eaves, who is tated third, in three straight sets. Neshit will meet Larned to-morrow in the semi-finals, and this match will probably be not only one of the finest in the tournament, but seems destined to be one of the most important matches ever played in this Larned had a bad scare this morning and came hear being put out of the tournament altogether by George L. Wrenn, ir. a young brother of the champion, who had the New-Jersey man two sets to one, when the latter woke up, and, pulling himself together, won the two necessary sets.

Young Wrenn kept up his fine play this afternoon be and Whitman without match in the noon, he and Whitman winning their match in the Eastern championship doubles, after four hard sets with Ward and Davis. The winners will meet R.

D. Wrenn and Larned to-morrow afternoon, and another hot match is anticipated.

The match of the morning proved to be the Larned-G. L. Wrenn contest, which unexpectedly developed into an exciting and long-drawn-out conopponent's 14. The second was not quite such an easy thing for the coming champaion, and before he knew it the games were 4 all. Larned tried hard to pull out the set, but Wrenn managed by steady play to pass him, and took the set, 6-4, the points being 30 to 34 in Wrenn's favor. The third set looked like Larned's for a while but after test. Larned took the first set with ease, 6-2, playing all around Wrenn, and scoring 36 points to his having Wrenn 4-1 the New-Jersey man went to pieces again, and Wrenn took the set, 6-4, the points being 28 to 23 in his favor. By this time Larned realized that he had the hottest kind of a fight on his hands, and by careful play took the fourth set, 6-1, the points being 28 to 17 in his favor. After that he had no difficulty in taking the fourth set, 6-1, the points being 28 to 17 in his favor. After that he had no difficulty in taking the fifth set, 6-2, and match, the points on the last set being 27 to 18, making a total of 138 to 115 in Larned's favor.

The northeast gale was howling across the grounds this afternoon when the two Englishmen, Dr. W. V. Eaves and H. A. Neshit, came onto the exhibition court for their match, and a large crowd gathered to see a typical English tennis contest. In this they were not disappointed, for it was hot from the start. Both men confined themselves to long, low volleys and half-volleys, and in this sort of play Nesbit was easily the superior. Nesbit's net of play was also particularly strong, and his form throughout closely resembled that of Larned, with throughout closely resembled that of Larned, with the exception perhaps that he was much steadler, and this fact leads many to believe that in the contest to-morrow the Englishman will win. Nesbit was so sure of his back line that he seemed to voltey with perfect confidence. Neither of the forley with perfect confidence. Neither of the forley with perfect was the longest of the match, six-The first set was the longest of the match, six-ten games being necessary to decide the winner. Maidstone, England, July 28.-The American cricket team brought their game against Kent to a finish to-day, and sustained another defeat, the "hop county" representatives winning by an innings and 9 runs. The Americans' first innings ended quickly this morning, the last four wickets putting on but 11 runs, and the total reaching only 168. This necessi-tated a follow on, and Percy Clark and F. H. for a brace, and the first wicket was down for 5. Lester then joined the ex-captain of Harvard, and the pair did some fine defensive work. Clark stuck to his post like a veteran, and the total had advanced to 39 before he was bowled by Shine for 19. A. M. Wood filled the vacancy, and another good A. M. Wood filled the vacancy, and another good stand ensued, the total being carried to 38 before Wood was caught by Martin for 22. Lester kept up the work in company with King, and when he at length ylelded to the bowling of Easby he had been at the wickets two hours for a fine contribution of 69. Every wicket was then found difficult to get by the Kent trundlers, and no less than eight of the team got into double figures. Lynford Biddle proved a marvel of defence, and kept up his wicket two hours for 30 runs. H. P. Baily was the only man to hit out with any degree of freedom, and he did so only when he knew that there was no use trying longer for a draw.

The visitors will begin their last match to-morrow at Lords', London, where they will encounter the powerful Surrey eleven. The score yesterday:
